

Excellent Packaging & Supply

We at Excellent Packaging & Supply are committed to providing our customers with the best comprehensive line of sustainable, biodegradable, compostable food service products.

As part of our continuing quality control efforts we have removed some bioplastic items from the BioMass™ Packaging Program. We include bioplastics only when we have documentation showing that bioplastics meet our standards for items included in the BioMass™ Packaging line.

We will continue to evaluate new information regarding product composition and quality as it becomes available. If we believe that a product may no longer meet our standards, we will act promptly to remove it from our BioMass™ Packaging Program.

If you want more information about bioplastics or have an interest in purchasing bioplastics contact your sales representative. Bioplastic products are still for sale – just not as part of the BioMass™ Packaging Program.